

NEW INTERTOLL DIAL SERVICE ON SATURDAY

TELEPHONE CO. TO START
NEW LONG DISTANCE
SERVICE HERE

R. Y. Cooper, exchange manager at Greencastle for General Telephone Company of Indiana, Inc., announced today the inauguration at 2 p. m., on March 14, of intertoll dialing in the Greencastle exchange for calls initiated at Greencastle to Indianapolis and for calls from Wabash which are routed through Indianapolis.

According to Mr. Cooper, intertoll dialing is a somewhat recent development by which the telephone number of the called party at a long distance point is dialed directly without having to contact the operator at the exchange where the call is terminated. The result is faster and more efficient toll service. For example, calls from Greencastle to Indianapolis are now completed by the operator at Indianapolis. With intertoll dialing, the Greencastle party may give the toll operator at the local exchange the number of the party being called at Indianapolis and the call will normally be completed by the operator at Greencastle.

For calls initiated at Greencastle to points which are routed through Indianapolis, the intertoll dial service is also effective within limits. This is made possible by the operator at Greencastle dialing the code letters assigned at Indianapolis for specific toll points beyond Indianapolis. The code dialing connects the call through Indianapolis to the exchange being called, after which the called party's number is dialed.

For example, at the present time to call New Albany from Greencastle, the local operator first calls a toll operator at Indianapolis. The Indianapolis operator then contacts a toll operator at New Albany who completes the call. With intertoll dialing, in this specific case, the local operator may complete the call to New Albany without the assistance of the Indianapolis and New Albany operators. If, however, the exchange being called is not a dial system, the intertoll dialing service will be complete only as far as reaching an operator at the exchange which does not have automatic equipment.

"The company is going to considerable expense to install the necessary equipment to bring this improved toll service to Greencastle; however, the success of the new toll service depends on the local telephone users knowing the correct number of the party they are calling," said Mr. Cooper.

The final support level will be established on next October 1st, based on 90% of parity at that time, but in no event will the support price be lower than $1.58 per bushel.

REPORT MADE ON RED CROSS DRIVE RESULTS

MORE THAN $1,000 RAISED
LOCALLY WITH GOAL
SET AT $8,965

More than $1,000 has been raised toward the local Red Cross goal of $8,965, according to a statement submitted by the Putnam County executive committee to the national office.

Again this year Lee Zieg, superintendent of schools, was the first to complete solicitations when he turned in the contributions of city school teachers and bus drivers. Mrs. A. L. Meredith also has completed her solicitations.

Other groups reporting contributions thus far have been solicitors for the business section and for Greencastle township.

David W. Robinson, responsible for university personnel announced today that solicitations at DePauw will be completed early this week with contributions to date totaling $320.

The annual "Ugly Man" contest at the university will be sponsored again this year by Alpha Phi Omega, scouting organization. The contest will begin next week, with all proceeds going to the Red Cross. Each of DePauw's living units for women—sororities and dormitories—chooses a contestant, and open voting at five cents a vote determines the "ugliest man" on the campus. Last year Alpha Phi Omega turned over $510 to the Red Cross.

Mrs. O. T. Martin, executive secretary of the Red Cross has announced that the members of Delta Theta Tau now are soliciting in the residential section of Greencastle. That phase of the drive was hampered last week by inclement weather.

Rotarians Hear German Student

A DePauw University foreign exchange student delighted his Rotary audience in a talk on Wednesday titled "Fascinations and Frustrations of a Foreign Student in the Good 'Ole U. S. A." These impressions of the United States were given by Gerhard Zuther of Germany following his introduction by Dewar Smythe. The program was sponsored by the International Relations Committee.

"As a country, the United States is great," said Mr. Zuther, who went on to point out his favorable impressions as well as the unfavorable reactions of the average foreign student. Some of the favorable impressions were given as, tremendous traffic system and its excellence, smooth organization and efficiency of the small store to the largest corporation, personal integrity of the individual American, friendliness and courteousness of the police, splendid community spirit and the generosity of the American people.

Mr. Zuther pointed out that he was not impressed by the newspapers, which dramatize too much, too much specialization, the critical attitude towards others and the little conception of events outside of the U. S. The speaker commented on the "hurry and rush," but said that he had finally come to the conclusion that this was due to the inability of the individual to have more time to relax.

"Americans are an optimistic, dynamic and creative people," said Mr. Zuther, who expressed the opinion that he doesn't believe that Communism can gain hold of the U. S. because of the positive attitude of the "have-nots" and the constant effort put forth to improve rather than destroy.

A humorous note was injected in Mr. Zuther's comments on women: "smarter but less charming, braver but less patient, helpful but less constant, and more revealing but less concealing."

Guests of the Greencastle Rotarians were James Dalton, Brazil; Prof. Hans Gruening, who has recently returned from his native Germany, and Fred Mann of New Castle.

RED MIGS SHOOT DOWN U. S. JET

TWO CZECHOSLOVAKIAN MIG-15 jets attacked and shot down a U. S. F-84 jet plane 15 miles within the U. S. zone of Germany, near Regensburg, Bavaria (1). A second U. S. jet on the same mission landed at Fuerstenfeldbruck airbase near Munich. The U. S. government is making the "strongest possible" protests to Red Czechoslovakia and regards the incident as probably the most serious of its sort since the cold war began. Last week a Polish air force pilot flew his Russian-built MIG jet fighter from behind the iron curtain and landed at Bornholm (2) in the Baltic sea. Poland has demanded that the Danish government return that plane.

DOWNED JET PILOT

LT. WARREN G. BROWN, Henderson, Colo., was the pilot of the U. S. F-84 jet shot down by two Soviet-made MIG-15 planes 15 miles inside the U. S. zone of Germany, Brown parachuted to safety near Regensburg, Bavaria. Another F-84, flying in the same mission, was also attacked, but it returned immediately to Fuerstenfeldbruck airbase near Munich.

MANY BILLS ARE PILED ON CRAIG'S DESK

CLUTTER OF MEASURES IS AFTERMATH OF GEN-ERAL ASSEMBLY

INDIANAPOLIS, March 12.—(UP)—Governor Craig's desk was piled high today with a lot of the clean-up duties which are the aftermath of the 1953 Indiana legislature.

He must decide which of the bills passed by the assembly should become law. A lot of those reached him during the weekend, and the constitution gives him until Saturday to sign or veto bills he received since last Friday.

Craig took action on a dozen of them late Wednesday, including a bill starting the machinery for paying the World War II veterans' bonus beginning June 1. He said he gave preference to this measure so Auditor Frank Millis could begin processing bonus applications immediately.

Upstairs, the House and Senate were littered with discarded paper which weary lawmakers tossed out of their desks. The lights were dimmed and the chambers almost empty.

Sen. Von Eichhorn (D-Uniondale) summed up how most of the 150 legislators must feel: "They say they wouldn't ever think of coming back. But give them a couple of weeks and they'll start thinking of bills they'd like to introduce. By primary election time, they'll be running."

And that, said Eichhorn, includes him.

Craig had not taken action on the anti-gambling bill which stirred up the legislature in its closing days. He said it took a back seat to the budget dispute which kept the session running overtime for almost 36 hours.

Most observers believed the governor would sign the anti-gambling measure despite an attorney general's opinion the bill was unconstitutional. Craig advocated stiffer gambling penalties during his campaign. His signature would pave the way for court tests of the measure's legality, particularly a section exempting religious and fraternal groups from its provisions.

Sen. Leo Stemle (D-Jasper) disclosed a heretofore untold House-Senate play on the budget which Stemle believed prevented a special legislative session and without which the assembly might still be deadlocked.

Stemle said a Republican informed him the Senate GOP had 28 votes with which to demand a 25 per cent cut on one of the three budget bills, the one providing construction funds for state universities. He said this was a "club" Senate Republicans could have used to force the House to surrender to Senate amendments on the main budget bill.

But before Sen. John Van Ness (R-Valparaiso) could tell what "club," said Stemle, House leaders were informed and they quickly concurred in Senate versions of two budget bills, freeing them from the stalemate budget conference committee.

Craig delayed study of the budget, one of his biggest tasks, to approve the bonus bill plus one exempting servicemen from paying a poll tax while they are in service and for six months after discharge.

He also signed bills designed to relieve a shortage of school classrooms. They authorize loans from the state common school fund for new construction, permit school corporations to purchase adjacent land, and clarify 1951 law regarding financing of school building plans.

WOMAN KILLED BY FAST TRAIN AT COATESVILLE

MRS. LOUISA TABER WALKS INTO PATH OF WEST-BOUND PENNSY

Mrs. Louisa Taber, age about 69 years, was instantly killed when struck by the Pennsylvania railroad's crack passenger train, "Spirit of St. Louis," at the main street crossing in Coatesville at 9:25 o'clock Thursday morning.

Mrs. Taber was hit by the westbound train, No. 31, when she walked onto the crossing. The train is due through Greencastle at 9:35 a. m.

Reports from Coatesville were that the signal bell was ringing at the crossing and the flasher lights were working at the time. H. H. Hathaway, editor of the Coatesville Herald, said that he heard the train whistle and that it stopped at the west edge of the Hendricks county town.

Mrs. Taber had been staying with Mrs. Lennie Stanley, an elderly Coatesville resident.

The body was taken to the Whitaker Funeral Home in Cloverdale.

Mrs. Taber was survived by two brothers, Henry Woodall of Putnamville, and Robert Woodall of Hammond. George A. Hendrix, a young man she raised, was located at Camp Breckenridge, Ky., by Mr. Hathaway following the accident. He is employed by a construction firm.

Five nieces and nephews and other relatives also survive. Her husband, Will Taber, preceded her in death.

Mrs. Taber was born in Warren township the daughter of Robert and Ella Woodall. She had spent all her life in the Putnamville and Cloverdale communities before moving to Coatesville about three years ago.

Funeral services will be announced later.

EXTRA!

INDIANAPOLIS, March 12.—(INS)—Gov. George N. Craig today signed the sweeping Hasbrook anti-gambling bill and announced he will sign the compromised $601,900,000 budget bill.

At a press conference, Craig also announced that he has signed the judges and teachers retirement bills and will sign the $5 mile speed bill.

Craig termed the budget bill "fair" and said the state "should be able to save money within it."

He said he has no plans to call a special session to get his bill that would have given cities and towns a cut of the state alcoholic gallonage tax take but said "it should have been enacted."

WASHINGTON, March 12.—(INS)—The Senate Armed Services Committee today unanimously upheld Gen. Van Fleet's charges of ammunition shortages in Korea and decided to name a subcommittee to continue the shell probe and fix responsibility.

Chairman Saltonstall R. Mass., in making the announcement, said that the subcommittee, which will pretty much "police" ammunition production, will determine if there has been "too much of a butter policy and not enough guns."

YANK PATROL RESCUED BY INFANTRYMEN

MAKE SEVEN HOUR STAND AGAINST REDS IN SNOW STORM

SEOUL, Korea, March 12.—(UP)—American infantrymen battled through a ring of Chinese Communists today to rescue an outnumbered U. S. patrol that made a seven-hour stand in the winter's heaviest snowfall to break up a Red attack.

Snow fell all along the 155-mile front. It ranged from eight inches in the west to 14 inches in the east. In some sectors the snow changed to rain late in the day and turned supply routes into quagmires.

The American patrol, outnumbered nearly three to one, pounced on a 100-man Chinese force when it spotted the Reds moving across no-man's land to attack a U. N. position south of Pyongyang on the central front.

The Communist troops, their attack plans upset, surrounded the small patrol and poured rifle and machine gun fire on the Americans. Red mortars sent in shells from rear positions.

The Americans dug in and fought back. Their commander radioed for reinforcements.

One body of troops from the main allied positions ran into the Communists surrounding the patrol and was itself cut off.

A second American force pushed in to the fight and linked up with the first group of reinforcements. Together they fought their way through the Reds and reached the patrol.

Finally, at 10 a. m., (8 p. m. EST Wednesday), seven hours after the patrol first jumped the superior Red force, the Americans broke out of the Communist circle and returned to their own lines.

Preliminary reports said 20 Reds were counted killed. Allied losses were not disclosed.

A second heavy fight on the central front came southeast of Kumsong, where some 50 Chinese hit a South Korean outpost. Using rifles, hand grenades and machine guns, the Reds fought for 40 minutes before being driven back at 5:10 a. m. They tried again a few minutes later, but again were driven back in a 25-minute fight.

Allied fighter-bombers were grounded during the morning for the third straight day. Only weather reconnaissance planes took off.

During the night, 13 Okinawa-based B-29 Superforts struck in three waves shortly before midnight to wreck three Red supply and troop areas 12 miles southwest of Pyongyang, the North Korean capital. Three Communist fighter planes were spotted, but they made no attempt to break up the attack.

B-26's hit Red supply convoys, destroying 16 vehicles, and flew close support missions along the front.

RURAL HOOSIERS PLAN
4-H WEEK OBSERVANCE LAFAYETTE, Ind.,—Boys and girls throughout rural Indiana will put into action the theme:

"Working Together for World

Understanding," as they observe
National 4-H Club Week, March 7-15.

Many counties are planning membership rallies and drives for volunteer leaders as part of the observance, says Harold B.
Taylor, state leader at Purdue University. Objectives and aims of the 1953 Club season will be told by store window displays, radio broadcasts, news stories and talks at civic gatherings.

Under the 4-H program which is directed in Indiana by Purdue's Agricultural Extension Service, rural boys and girls are receiving practical training in better farming and homemaking.

During the week, these youth will be planning their 1953 projects.

According to Taylor, a goal of 80,000 members has been set. In 1952, membership in Indiana clubs was 73,688 with 29,587 boys and 44,101 girls enrolled.

Although the program is directed locally by county extension agents, the existence and success of the clubs depend largely upon the efforts of volunteer leaders.
Included among these are many vocational agriculture and home economics teachers. This large group of volunteer leaders numbers 1,397 men and 2,247 women who work with 4-H clubs. Assisting these adult leaders are 3,366 boys and 4,870 older girls serving as Junior 4-H leaders.

Projects offered to boys and girls have kept pace with rural living, and this year they may choose from 37 different projects. More emphasis is directed towards agricultural projects for youth living in small towns and areas surrounding cities. Among these projects are gardening, poultry production, farm and home electrical activities, conservation, potato growing, rabbits, strawberries, and shop work.

The projects which attracted greatest attention among youth living in farms or in small towns last year according to enrollment are as follows: food selection or baking, 45,744; clothing construction, 25,768; gardening,
8,676; agricultural engineering
(shop, tractor and electricity),
8,202; swine, 6,261; corn, 4,980;
arts and crafts, 4,624; dairy,
4,468; forestry, 4,238; poultry, 3,785; beef cattle, 3,694; and rabbits 2,140.

This aria, ladies and gentlemen, is supposed to make you like opera better than you do now—and if you like opera as much as I do, you just don't like it at all.

The aria is from the new children's opera, "Babar," which had its premiere at Hunter College in New York and it is here reprinted by permission of the copyright owner, Random House. Nicolai Berezowsky is the composer. (I mention this because you can't quote anything that is copyrighted unless you have permission to do so. This permission was given.)

The opera is dedicated to Prince Charles and Princess Anne of England. A copy, bound in blue leather, has been sent to the Prince and another copy, bound in pink leather, to the Princess. I am sure they will both treasure their copies highly.

Some of the performers wore elephant masks that weigh almost a pound. There are also many strange characters and sounds.

"Lewis Brooks plays the front of the camel," said one reviewer, "and Sheldon Soffer the rear."

There must be quite a large number of music lovers in New York. "The 2,202 seats in the Hunter College auditorium have been sold out for three weeks," said an announcement.

Now to another matter of great importance.

Science has discovered that Vitamin B-12 will increase the height of children.

Now please don't all rush to the drug store and buy B-12 or your kids.

It will increase your children's height so that a boy, for instance, who by nature was destined to be a runt, may become an impressive six-footer. But B-12 will also do something else.

The thing was tried on dachshunds, and while these little animals grew into veritable hounds, it was found that after taking the drug they couldn't have any dachshund puppies.

It also developed that they were quite apt to have diabetes.

As a matter of fact, said Dr. Alvarez of the Mayo Clinic, there are a number of difficulties in the way; so many that I could hate to perform the first experiments.

In other words, like so many scientific discoveries—they have something there but they don't quite know what it is.

It's a little like that recent announcement by the Navy that they have perfected an absolutely safe "space suit," which, when worn, will enable flyers to travel to the moon in complete comfort as soon as the proper transportation is available.

I cannot see, for the life of me, why anybody wants to travel to the moon.

You can be quite sure that as soon as we get there we will be having trouble.

Haven't we enough trouble NOW, without messing up people's affairs on other planets? Which we are bound to do.

Why don't the space suit builders and others of their ilk see their house in order here on earth, before going so far afield? Sometimes I wonder whether all the air and sea and land disasters that occur so frequently of late, might not be reminders from above that we had better mind our own business.

We will all get to the next orbit soon enough.

FORD TRUCKS

L. W. Smead, general sales manager of Ford Division, are the completely new "grivized" cabs and the elimination of double-clutching through use of new synchro-silent transmissions on all models. Also shorter wheelbases, wider front treads and repositioning of springs make all 1953 Ford trucks easier to handle and to steer, more maneuverable and with shorter turning radius.

Other important features, Mr. Smead said, are 4-foot wide rear windows; new wider seats with 5 feet of hip room comfortably seating three men; exclusive Ford counter-shock seat members which absorb road shocks for a softer, smoother ride; greater ease of servicing all models and Ford's exclusive offering of either three V-3 or two 6-cylinder modern, high compression engines noted for their economical operation. Engines range from 101 h. p. to 155 h. p.

BRAVE GROCER

NEW YORK, March 12 (UP)—John Chenesky, a 68-year-old grocery store owner, ignored a knife sticking in his back last night to chase away three teenage boys who tried to hold up his store.

Chenesky finally was felled by a bullet wound on the sidewalk near his store in Brooklyn. His condition was listed as critical today.

Police arrested the three young thugs as they raced down the street from the store.

Chenesky refused when Albert Sharp, 16, and his two companions entered his store and demanded he open the cash register. When he turned his back on the trio, Sharp picked up a knife from the counter and stabbed him. The grocer chased the boys until Sharp pulled a gun and shot him in the stomach.

PLAN MOUNTAIN CLIMB

NEW DELHI, March 12 (UP)—A British expedition which will try to climb Mount Everest has left the Nepalese capital of Kathmandu, New Delhi newspapers said today.

The report from Kathmandu said Col. John Hunt, the leader of the expedition, already had arrived at the first base camp at Mancho Bazar. Other members of the expedition left Kathmandu for the camp Tuesday night.

COACH RESIGNS

LEBANON, Ind., March 12 (UP)—Lebanon high school basketball coach Earl Overman has announced his resignation effective at the end of the current semester, to enter private business. In three years here, Overman's teams won 20 of 58 regular season games and two sectional championships.

FATAL ACCIDENT

INDIANAPOLIS, March 12 (UP)—One person was killed Wednesday and another injured slightly in a three-vehicle crash caused when a truck lost both front wheels.

James R. Polley, 40, Indianapolis, was pinned in the wreckage of his car after a truck operated by Laurence Taylor, 19, swerved out of control, hit the Polley car and one driven by Mrs. Doris Lookabill, 54, both also of Indianapolis.

Polley died enroute to a hospital. Mrs. Lookabill suffered lacerations.

WOMAN KILLED

BICKNELL, Ind., March 12 (UP)—A Michigan woman was killed late Wednesday and her husband and another passenger injured seriously when their auto ran off Ind., 67 near here into a creek and overturned.

Mrs. Maggie Shelton, 57, Pontiac, Mich., was killed. Her husband, James, about 60, believed to have been the driver, and Mrs. Fleeta Hargrave, 44, Noblesville, Ind., were taken to a Vincennes, Ind. hospital in serious condition.

ITALIAN RAIL STRIKE

ROME, March 12 (UP)—A nationwide railroad strike idled 165,000 workers and 12,000 trains in Italy today.

Workers of two of Italy's biggest unions, ignoring a last-minute appeal by Premier Alcide de Gasperi, walked off their jobs at midnight in a 48-hour strike for higher wages. Emergency teams of civilians and soldiers took over the operation of a few key trains.

"Carlo and Steve" aren't the type . . .

Like most men, "Carlo & Steve" would like to be a Man of the World type. Always with a pair of First Night Theater tickets in their pockets, never sneaking a look at the prices when they sit down to order dinner, etc.

But "Carlo & Steve" just aren't the Playboy type. They never have time to play. They're too busy in their store cutting a penny off here and a penny off there, seeing their vegetables and meats are top-quality and doing out ways to save Greencastle housewives money.

This not only keeps "Carlo & Steve" out of trouble . . . besides how can you afford to be a Playboy when you sell groceries at prices like these?

THOUGH it's one of the more rugged and blustery of months, it's hats off to March—thanks to those wild, pre-spring breezes.

U Nu is premier of Burma. To his political opponents, suggests Aitch Kay, no Nus would be good news.

The 17-year locust is due this summer, we read. What were those we saw last August—16-year-old jobs?

Army camp guards, says a news item, nabbed a fellow making off with a duffel bag loaded with nine frozen chickens, two hams, 10 chunks of boneless beef, 20 pounds of baloney, 25 pounds of pork, 20 pounds of salmon, plus salami and liverwurst. This was no duffel bag—that was a traveling butcher shop!

Glasgow, according to Foreign graphs, means "dear green eyes." Sounds like the toes may have migrated from Ireland!

Latest aid to dinner out we learn, is a revolving spaghetti fork. We'd trade ours in for an extra meal.

In Hastings, England, five owners of white cats reported that pets have been stolen. Sounds like the beginning of one of the better Sherlock Holmes stories.

You May Have To Sacrifice Extra Trick To Good Timing

In timing the play of a hand properly it is often necessary to give up the chance of making an extra trick. In today's deal, Mr. Masters got the king of clubs opening and he won with the ace. There was only one card in his hand which was the correct lead at trick two. What would you have led?

winning only nine tricks on the hand. He was only slightly more interested in taking 11 tricks. His prime interest was in making sure he took 10.

With that objective in mind he laid down the ace of spades at trick two. Mr. Meek won the second spade lead, cashed a club, then led a heart. But now Mr. Masters had time to pick up the remaining trump, knock out the ace of diamonds and enter dummy with the second heart honor to reach the good diamonds and park his losing hearts.

UN To Vote On Lie Successor

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., March 12 (UPI) — The United States grouped its forces behind Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines today in preparation for the first ballot in the United Nations security council for selection of a new secretary-general.

U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge surprisingly took the initiative in a closed meeting of the security council yesterday when he nominated Romulo for the $55,000 a year job now held by Norway's Trygve Lie.

Russia nominated Polishville.
